Title of Invention

BLOOD CIRCULATORY MASSAGER MACHINE

DOCUMENTATION

ABSTRACT-

As we know the condition of human society depends on the people in the society, their health conditions also matter. There are many people suffering from diseases like diabetes , obesity , hypertension and cardiac disease and disease related to immunity.Through this paper we are throwing light on the new concept of Blood circulatory massager positive machine. We have designed and manufactured the Blood Circulation Massager Machine which supports a Body of Maximum “110 kg” using the fundamental principles of“Traditional Indian Medicine”.

Our massager integrates techniques of-

1) acupuncture ,

2) key stimuli points ,

3) palm and feet reflex points and 4)palm and feet massage points.

INTRODUCTION :-

The machine we are introducing is connected to AC electric supply. It consists of a rotator that needs to be rotated every 5 -15 min. The stimulation is selected to be low or high. An electric motor of half hp will be added which will link the mechanical parts of the machine , and voltage is 220 - 2240 V AC and power is 200 Watt. The mechanical parts require a certain bearing and axle for smooth operation. Since this mechanism is convenient to produce a considerable amount of energy with maximum efficiency. I have chosen the particular method for the working of the machine.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE DRAWING :-

Summary :-

We are approaching in a way for a design of this product as per Indians specifications and requirements that are our all average height, weight, and acceptance.There are many people in India that face different challenges related to their health like diabetes , arthritis , hypertension and obesity. The machine will help all those people with blood circulation and better metabolism using massage in acupuncture points.Initially at least 3 month will be utilized for Manufacturing of Blood Circulatory Massager Positive Machine. One month will be utilized for complete module design and assembling of electrical and mechanical parts. Then testing and validation of BCM positive machines.It has a Dynamic design which creates a Vortex like flow of Energy through the key massage points, ensuring the maximum benefit to the body. It can efficiently replace the need for regular exercise. There is a large potential for this product and the more it expands the better will be the result for which we have requested for support to our organization.We expect to provide at least 3000/unit per month to be produced within 3 years.Thereafter we can expand it exponentially .Every individual above the age group of 18 years and except person who have been not advice medically.

OBJECTIVE OF THE INVENTION :--

a) To reduce mental stress in professionals

b) To reduce capillary tension in body

c) To maintain proper blood flow rate in body

d) To remove blockages in the body

e) To increase the efficiency of working of internal body organs

f) To make easy home product suitable for gradual use

USP :-

1. We will be using a digital meter by which we can set the time limit and at the same time it will show the detail like body weight.
2. The handles will also produce vibrations along with the base, as this will help in full body massage.
3. The handle will be height adjustable so it will convenient for the person of every age group.

APPLICATION-

The machine has many applications-

- For hospitals
- For gym
- For NGO
- For relieve pain in joints and muscles
- For reduces stress and related strain in body and mind.
